

What do Regional Alliances do?

- Establish and sustain an effective structure of leadership to guide local collaboration to improve oral health.
- Identify and address barriers to oral health care utilization and effective service delivery.
- Build community will and support.
- Improve community will and capacity to use data to guide collaborative decision-making
- Increase coordination and integration of oral health services.
- Educate community members.
- Improve the competency of providers.

Enable systems to work together more effectively